

HEADLINE: State Records Board Seeks Nominations for Archives Award

INDIANAPOLIS (September 26, 2011) – The State Historic Records Advisory Board (SHRAB) seeks nominations for its 2011 Governor's Award. The Governor's Award was created in 2006 to keep with SHRAB's mission to identify potential problems, establish collaborative initiatives, and offer solutions to enhance the preservation, accessibility, and recognition of Indiana's valuable historic records.

Nominations are sought for individuals who have contributed substantially toward the preservation, recognition, or appreciation of Indiana's historic records through their support, leadership, innovation and volunteerism. Each year, one professional and one volunteer are honored for their service.

Nominations for the Governor's Award must be postmarked by November 15, 2011 for consideration this year. Award Recipients will be recognized on December 9, 2011 at the Indiana Statehouse as part of the Statehood Day celebration.

More information about SHRAB and the nomination form and guidelines for the Governor's Award are available on the SHRAB website.

About the Indiana SHRAB:

In February of 2006, Governor Mitch Daniels created the Indiana State Historic Records Advisory Board, or SHRAB. Charged with being the central advisory body for historical records planning and preservation in Indiana, the SHRAB works with the Commission on Public Records and repositories throughout the state to accomplish its task.
